

Doug Fisher

How to Design Effective Instruction for All Students

At this conference, Dr. Fisher will focus on the following topics:

- high quality instruction
- close reading
- text-dependent questions
- annotation.

But here's the treat I've been promising you. Even though March Madness is over, the first 200 people who register for this conference will receive a copy of Doug Fisher's new book, Text Complexity: Raising the Rigor in Reading.

If you have already registered, the book is yours.

What's the book about?

Doug Fisher believes that to ensure that all students learn to read increasingly complex texts, teachers must understand what makes a text hard. This book focuses on the quantitative and qualitative factors of text complexity as well as the ways in which readers can be matched with texts and tasks. Readers can examine how close readings of complex texts scaffold students' understanding and allow them to develop necessary skills. These techniques can be applied to readers at any reading level.

We have 200 books to give away and about 25% of them are already taken. So register soon, we're sure the rest will be gone in no time. The book costs $24.95, but you will receive it free if you are among the first 200 participants to register.

Doug will be using the book during his conference talk, so you can annotate your copy as you listen to this exciting speaker.

We will be publishing some specific ideas from the book in weekly letters this month.

This book is a gift from SCIRA to conference participants.
